MonetaPro.IO Continues Wave of Success with 2nd Place at d10e in Malta

Continuing with the successful trend, MonetaPro took 2nd place at the 22nd global edition of d10e. This event was the 1st edition in Malta and it was a resounding success.

The conference featured 15 competitors from all over the world vying to be featured as one of the top new startups. MonetaPro appreciated the opportunity to participate at d10e, which always provides the best produced and attended conference events in the world. $100K was distributed amongst the top prizes winners bringing the total d10e event prize winnings to $1.6M.

"Stephen, I think we are going to cut you off from (returning to) the stage... so you can go and build your company and comeback as an investor, once you sell (MonetaPro), to help other companies!" joked Mike Costache, Co-Founder & Managing Partner of KrowdMentor, upon completion of the awards ceremony.

MonetaPro.IO is a closed-loop payment system for Global Non-Cash Trading. Today, there is a $17 trillion dollar existing industry of global non-cash trading. The average business trade is over $1M. However, this corporate bartering takes place manually via phone, email or fax. MonetaPro solves automation by creating a GBUC (General Business Usage Credit) that enables one-to-many exchange. MonetaPro intends to be the most progressive financial transaction engine in the marketplace.
