Malta, Nov.23rd, 2020/ -- Stephen Meade, Founder & CEO of MonetaPro™, a BigBamboo company, was featured at AIBC-Europe Virtual Expo as a speaker on “Moulding the Future Digital Economy.”

AIBC is a world-class emerging technology and blockchain exposition conference taking place in Europe, America, Africa and Asia. AIBC brings together key brands and individuals from converging sectors of AI, blockchain, IoT, Quantum Tech, other emerging technologies and thought leaders from across the globe. Such international support and interest have helped propel AIBC Summit into becoming a favorite on the world circuit for emerging tech conferences and expos.

Joining Meade on the panel were Joshua Ellul, Chairman – Malta Digital Innovation Authority, Dana Farrugia, CEO – Tech.MT, and Jessica Walker, Business Development Manager – United Remote.

The panel covered a range of topics including Malta’s creation of VFA’s (virtual financial assets), and regulatory framework around using blockchain technology and crypto currency to create new financial instruments.

MonetaPro Founder Meade commented, “We were happy to work with Malta in the creation and formation of some of the early framework. Additionally, in getting the MON Token from MonetaPro approved as a VFA, we are at the forefront as one of the few companies in the world that has passed the stringent application and approval process for a token listing.”

Chairman Ellul was instrumental in Malta’s effort in creating not only this regulatory framework, but the ability for companies to utilize the vast array of access and resources that Malta has to offer.

Meade added, “Malta has provided us tremendous support as we roll out in this burgeoning sector. By going through the regulation process, we believe this will add to the credibility and stability that is necessary for Blockchain, Fintech, and Crypto Currencies to grow as an alternative to traditional banking and finance methods.”

NOTE: The panel discussion was pre-recorded and will be shown on November 25th, 2020 as part of the AIBC Virtual Expo.

About MonetaPro, LLC

MonetaPro is a B2B platform for global barter that operates as a trade-for-credit exchange. Today, there is a $17 trillion-dollar industry of where companies barter and trade goods and services in a non-cash manner. Most of the trades are still done one-to-one and the transactions take place manually via phone, fax, email or spreadsheet. The MonetaPro platform allows companies to list goods and services available for trade in a seamless manner. It acts as a central bank and closed loop clearinghouse. Instead of receiving cash, sellers receive trade credits called the G-BUC (pronounced G-BUCKs, which stands for Global Business Usage Credits), based on the U.S. dollar equivalent. Companies use the G-BUCs to purchase goods and services from other members of the exchange. MonetaPro was founded on providing value to the global trade industry via liquidity, efficiency and trust.
